"My Mother Bought from You"

That remark, passed by a young lady in our store the other day, strongly impressed us.

She was in our store buying furnishings for her own home. which she was soon to enter as a bride. When she had come in, she explained her needs with these words, "My mother bought her first furniture from you, and I'm sure I couldn't place my furniture needs in better hands."

Two generations! Perhaps that is because we give each customer the same careful consideration, whether they wish to buy one small item or an entire home-full.

Isn't the fact that we've served two generations of brides satisfactorily, reason enough to place your home requirements in our care? We're ready to save you real money as we serve you!

Norge Refrigerators Norge Washers

A year ago I prophesied that this country was going to be

"NORGEIZED"

My hearty thanks to all my friends who have bought Norges and made my prophecy come true.

To all my other friends who are not happy Norge owners, won't you let me call and explain why one of the country's largest selling refrigerators is the Norge?

CLASS OF 1935

The Enfield Echo

Published at intervals during the school year by the members of the Enfield Public High School, Thompsonville, Conn.

Entered as second-class matter February 21, 1917, at the Post Office at Thompsonville, Conn., under the Act of March 3, 1879.

VOL. 23

THOMPSONVILLE, CONN., JUNE 1935

NO. 1

ADDRESS OF WELCOME

(By Donald Comrie)

In behalf of the class of nineteen hundred thirty-five, I take pleasure in welcoming you to these, our class night exercises. Through effort, the class has reached goals never attained before. Through honor, the class has upheld the high standards maintained throughout the years. Lastly through service, has given to this institution what it was capable of offering. But our success has been mainly due to the generous help which you, the loyal supporters of the class, have given us. So in behalf of the Class of Nineteen Hundred Thirty-five I extend their sincere appreciation and again with the most sincere and deepest pleasure welcome you, parents, teachers and friends to our Class Night Exercises.

CLASS HISTORY

(By Rita Garvey)

I had just finished reading DeQuincy's "Confession of an English Opium Eater", and, being of the adventurous type, I resolved to delve into the realm of the blissful "pill". By means of political influence I was able to secure the narcotic and, on an evening marked by the furious lashings of a gale, I placed myself on a divan before the crackling blaze in my fireplace. The room was utterly dark, except for the light thrown by the blazing logs. Under the weird atmosphere of the rain lashing at the windows and the ghostly effect of the flickering shadows on the wall, I went, with the feeling of one who is about to view untold wonders, through the process of "cooking the pill". After taking a few puffs, the dancing shadows on the wall seemed to become blurred and the fire vanished into nothingness. Generally in such blissful slumbers one sees enchanted places and bewitching people and encounters delightful events. My dream proved no exception.

I was transported to a wistful land called Memory. I was astonished to see a colossal stage above which were the words "The Constellation of 1935". On this stage, in which time and space were small affairs, the great drama of 1935 began to unfold itself thus—

In the fall of 1931 there came to Enfield High School a group of people who had not yet passed the stage of childish innocence. They were properly awed by the bastile-like appearance of their new Alma Mater.

After being welcomed by students and faculty alike, they settled down to the routine of high school freshman life. In the first operetta "Jerry of Jericho Road", Althea Martin made the school aware of her musical ability and because of her participation in this event made the class feel as if they "belonged."

A few months passed and the all important duty of electing officers arrived. Neil Sloan was chosen president; Mary Smyth, vice-president; Althea Martin, secretary; William Malley, treasurer and Rita Garvey, historian.

Edmund Rossi and Henry Norian further brought distinction to the class of '35 by taking part in the Speaking Contest sponsored by the Progressive Club.

In the fall of 1933 another group joined the ranks. As Sophomores the Class of '35 could now look down upon their "frosh" schoolmates.

The more difficult feat of competing in the Short Play Contest was now attempted by this class. Rita Fay showed great talent as their representative in this project. The remainder of the year passed as did its predecessor.

The autumn of 1934 came around to find them Juniors. Another group of officers was chosen to carry them on through this quarter. This time Edmund Rossi was elected to serve as president; Helen Wojnar, vice-president; Esther Frigon, secretary; William Malley, treasurer.

Gregory Ringwald showed artistic ability during this year and carried away the prize for the poster contest held in connection with the "Donovan Affair." Several members of the class did justice to parts awarded to them in this production.

Another short play was held this year. The title of the play was "His First Dress Suit." Robert McIntosh, Nora Hanrahan, William Tippet, and Rita Garvey took part in this. In the final contest McIntosh was given honorable mention.

The shadow of death saddened this year for the class of '35. Miss Storrs, one of the faculty, was taken from them. Two of the class Fremont Oliver and Robert Crane passed away also during the year.

The athletic ability of the class became very apparent during this year, although it had been prevalent during the previous years of high school. On the football field, Morrell, Laino, Dellaquilla. Guala, Blaney, Norian, Mockalis, Mirabile did excellent work. In basketball William Malley, Edward Pietrusza and William Miller were the outstanding stars from the class.

Under their newly found seriousness and fast developing maturity the class manipulated their first social event, the Junior Promenade. Esther Frigon was chosen as hostess and Alan Donnelly as host. Although the returns were financially small, socially it was a huge success.

Much too slowly the day arrived when the position of Seniors was reached. Since there were no hats large enough to fit them most of the class members were forced to go without them.

Donald Comrie was elected to the presidency in place of Edmund Rossi. The treasurer's duties became heavy during this year because of the dues for the Washington Trip which the Seniors made in April of their final year. The committee, headed by James Mirabile, supported by Mary Smyth, Edward Pietrusza, Stephen Gracewski and Kenneth Lebeshevsky did an excellent job on this project.

Edmund Rossi, Stephen Gracewski, James Mirabile, Gregory Ringwald and Russell McLean distinguished themselves in the debating field during this last quarter.

Donald Comrie, who showed unusual musical talent during the four years of high school, gave two concerts for the D. A. R.

Robert McIntosh, Rita Fay and Nonie Hanrahan took leading roles in the school play "Growing Pains" and created comment by their unusual performances.

Another social event was the Senior Prom at which Rita Fay acted as hostess and Gregory Ringwald as host.

The musical "Hulda of Holland" presented a last opportunity for the Class of '35 to be represented. Charlotte Wirth represented the class in this.

Events take place in rapid succession and the scene now shifts to Graduation Day. Amid the full-hearted farewells the giant curtain begins to drop and suddenly it bursts into the flame of the crackling logs in my fireplace. The dream had vanished and a heavy sigh of wistfulness came over me as I realized that the most noteworthy of Enfield's groups had passed into the realm of Memory.

CLASS PROPHECY

(By Neil Sloan, Everett Buck, Catherine Pomeroy, Jeanne Patenaude)

It is the year 1945. Neil Sloane and Everett Buck are geologists stationed in Nome, Alaska. Winter has come and with it gloomy six months blackness. With the advent of darkness comes a longing for news of the Class of '35. But, how to contact them? Sloane and Buck have but one name and address, that of Harold Cunningham. An idea strikes them both (they treat it carefully, it's in a strange place) and neither gives it expression for a week (letting it age in the wood). A chain letter! Cunningham would be a perfect one to continue it. He was forever selling them back in 1935. Then a letter demanding information is sent to Cunningham requesting that he forge the first link in the chain.

Soon the answer arrived. But, somebody, somewhere has slipped up. The answers come by thousands from all over the world, from people who had never heard of the Class of 1935. In some inexplicable manner these people had been included in the chain.

By dint of long, intense application and with the aid of two stenographers, Catherine Pomeroy and Jeanne Patenaude, the replies are finally classified. The first letter has a N. Y. post-mark and is from Donald Comrie.

New York, N. Y.

Dear Classmates:

Of course I am glad to assist you with your novel chain letter idea.

I play the piano in Phil Spitalney's orchestra. Leading the combine, with a baton in one hand and graham crackers in the other, is Betty Anne Winship. Frank Netopski is the crooner. His bows serve the double purpose of acknowledging applause and clucking superannuated fruit; which, incidentally, is the only kind one can purchase from the grocery store of Cardone and Alaimo. Brendan Bielitz, notorious inventor of the pretzel twisting device, occasionally condescends to play the trumpet. He still has trouble with the valves. We also have Bernice Henry with us doing a series of specialty dances.

We play in a hotel that is owned by Borys and Jedziniak. They still retain the proprietary air that they once displayed in the Hotel

Arlington.

I forgot to mention that all our instruments are purchased from Henry Norian, Inc.; which ranks third in the musical world.

No more news because I have emptied my fountain pen and have not the wherewithal with which to fill it.

Sincerely yours,

Donald Comrie.

British Africa

Dear Fellow-Wanderers:

We all seem to have travelled considerably since our days together. I don't know about you in Alaska but I don't get much of a chance to get lonesome here in Africa because I meet many of our classmates every day. I'm here writing a book on "The Difference Between Harlem and Africa." A. Muratore is my stenographer.

Joe Vella has a barber shop here—tells the natives stories while he shaves—and illustrates the stories with cuts. Perhaps you have heard that since divorce among polygamists has become fashionable Mary Wojnar and Stella Salva operate a law firm.

Monica McCann, Sophie Petrakis and Celia Bigos are doing

Missionary work here.

Karol Dubiel, Maurice McCann, John Urbon and Don Morrell members of the N. Y. Giants are here on an exhibition tour which F. O'Donnell is managing. They say if he manages to get them back to the U. S. alive he will have earned his money.

M. La Grange and S. Parvelac operate a dress shop but report business sales are "short."

M. Farrington, A. Cygan and R. Hayden are here representing the Henry Norian Musical Instrument Co. They are endeavoring to supplant the native tom-toms with American made drums.

Gregory Ringwald is being starred in the showing of Macbeth and is making a big hit with the native women.

It's rather "dark" here so I'll close. Your friend,

R. Garvey.

King's Ransom Hospital Chicago, Illinois

My dear Sir:

In view of the fact that I'm a specialist in charge of the Emergency Corps of the K. R. H., I am able to supply you with the information that you request.

Listed among my patients are several classmates, Christine Leander is suffering from second degree burns. In a recent typing contest she was operating her machine at such a rate of speed that it exploded.

Jacob Persky, communistic, collapsible soap box orator, and his colleague and fellow worker, James Mirabile, are here with an acute attack of lumber applied to the cranium. Persky's condition requires three nurses; Dorothy Titus, Anna Pfeiffer and Eleanore Osborne.

Bernice Pawelcik, champion woman swimmer, is recuperating from her swim across the Scantic. Esther Mohn is recovering from a nervous breakdown caused by excessive study. She requires the constant attention of Dr. James Blaney, famous brain specialist. The ambulance, driven by Moody and Misuraca, has just left to get Burns and Laino. Laino who is a well-known balloonist took Burns up as ballast. Unfortunately Laino misjudged the balloon's capacity.

Yours very truly,

Kenneth Trombly, MD.

P. S. The flowers sent to our patients are from the Brainard and Rybeck Gardens.

Washington, D. C.

Dear Classmates:

I am answering to try help warm your hearts in Alaska by letting you know of the activities of some of our pals. I never did get to Washington back in '35 but I'm here now as secretary to Russell McLean who is employed in the government research work.

I have dined at the Arlington Hotel many times. Margaret Baronian, Helen Wojnar, Lena DeSciacca and Margaret Gill are employed there as waitresses.

H. Greaves, K. Lebeshevsky, W. Tippett and S. Smith are elevator boys in the Arlington because of the breaks the boys get with the girls in the elevators.

Down at the popular 5 and 10 cent store Martha Malinoski is demonstrating zippers.

The other day a very stern dignified old maid stepped into my office and introduced herself as Al Martin. She told me she is now matron of a negro orphanage.

Rico Casinghino is owner of a chain store which rivals the Atlantic and Pacific Tea Co. for which he worked while in high school. In his store Hannah Malinsky demonstrates a new odorless onion cultivated by William Miller.

Clem Baj and Jessie Boland are running a woman's shop. In their store one can only buy the new white organdy collar which doesn't need cleaning or pressing. This collar was designed by Muriel Smith.

The latest addition to the Smithsonian Institute is William Devine's Stamp Collections.

Helen Davis and Mildred Turner are librarians in the Congressional Library.

That's all Alaska and good luck to you. Sincerely,

Stef Misheikis.

Barnum & Bailey Circus Tallahassie, Florida

Dear Friends:

Your letter came as a great surprise to me but then I'm used to freak happenings. I'm a magician with the Barnum & Bailey circus sideshow. Edward Kiernan is my faithful stooge. I secured my position largely through the influence of Joe O'Brien, booking agent for the show.

Our featured aerialists are W. Collins and D. Reveruzzi. They perform without nets, using as a safety device a special parachute designed by John Albert, famous inventor. H. Plank, T. Mockalis and E. Howard don grease-paint for every performance and are considered the three best clowns in the United States. Yesterday they caused the twins of the former Mildred Taylor to become hysterical.

In the sideshow we find Mary Smyth and Shirley Keeney as dancers "extraordinaire." During the intermission Bernice Stiles sells peanuts, popcorn and candy. Edmund Rossi, political commentator, is her best customer. Bill Malley, who never stopped growing, is employed as the tallest man in the world. C. Bidwell is also a member of this amazing troupe.

M. Santanella is the ticket girl here.

Come and see the circus when it is in town, but leave your watch home. Remember I'm a magician.

H. Cunningham.

Frew Terrace Thompsonville, Ct.

Hello, Alaska:

You had faith and hope in the chain letter mania and I am going to supply the charity by telling you of what our classmates are doing around town. As for myself I am happily married and have two children.

Last evening I went to Powder Hollow Night Club where I danced to the music of Francis Cygan and his Peerless Orchestra. Irvin Johnson plays saxophone, Rose Schianca, is the pianist and Helen Pease is the blues singer with a tear in her voice. I was welcomed by H. Zuraw and S. Maniscalco who are the hostesses.

I purchased my furniture, at the time of my marriage, from Enrico Guala, in whose store Ruth Malley is demonstrating a chaise lounge. She excels in this, as you might realize, if you remember her ability to sleep all day and enjoy herself at night. Amelia Chmura's new alarm clock is being displayed. It consists of a siren, a shower, and boxing gloves.

My weekly trip to the beauty parlor brings to mind more of our fellow alumni. The business is owned by Leona Michko and Dot Brennen whose efficiency comes from the practice they had in setting each other's hair through our four years at Enfield. Jean Herr demonstrates Wildroot Shampoo and Anne Bezak is a capable assistant.

You will be interested to learn that Steve Gracewski is head of the Language Department at Enfield High, Edward Mullen is the janitor and Edythe McCallum is taking a Post-Graduate Course.

Sincerely, Barbara Mallard.

48 Riverside Drive West Wallop, Conn.

My dear Inquirer:

For your enlightenment, my present occupation is agricultural. I have a small farm on which I raise tomatoes, potatoes and five children.

Dudley Bridge is a near neighbor of mine—he lives five miles down the road. He is seeking local color for a book, the sixth in a series for girls, entitled "Polly Ann in the Country."

In this vicinity there is a deaf and dumb school directed by Elizabeth Tower and Alice Baranaski. John Labutis is an expert instructor in this institution.

Bernice Sheridan is our local police chief. Her right hand men are Nick Dell Aquilla and Portenski. They make excellent officers.

This community is also proud of its picturesque Inn which is owned by Eva Tamulis. The whole countryside praises her delicious food.

The dandelions and burdock must be weeded now. So, best wishes from

Your Informer,

Alexander Gracewski.

Rue de la Chatte Paris, France

"Mon cher ami:"

"Comment ce-va?" It was "certainement" a fascinating idea for a-what you call? chain letter. I know you must be astonished to see the letterhead. "Mais oui," I am the greates' modiste in all Paris.

My models are "très" popular; Marge Charette, Mina Crombie, Nonie Hanrahan, Hazel Ghabour, Rita Manning and Marion Fahey. Rita Sullivan, "aussi" a model, has start a fad, it ees what you say a ribbon in the hair. My creations for the sport men are "tres chic." These are modeled by Sweeney, Donnelly and Robert Elmer McIntesh. All these styles designed by Eleanor Eddy and Earl Reed. "Ah, oui," John Mish and Lawrence Rostek are messengers ici.

"Ah, oui," John Mish and Lawrence Rostek are messengers ici.
Two of my customers, the most distinguees," are Carmelina Gaetani who is firs' woman ambassador to Italie and Rita Fay who studies the music in Vienna.

Au revoir, mon ami,

Esther Frigon.

Mars

Dear Far Away Friends:

You will instantly think on noticing the address of this letter that it should be changed to the residence of some state hospital for the insane.

I am the leader of an expedition to this planet for research purposes. Kazmierski, famous historian, is with us, compiling data for a book, the covers of which will be too far apart. Mendrala, Pietrusza, Albert, Resta and Gray manned the controls of the space ship which brought us here. Carrie Pease, Ruth Snow and Alice Pellaio are up here for the same reason the bear went over the mountain. Unfortunately the residents of this planet do not understand English which requires our making a trip back to pick up some English teachers, C. Wirth and E. Prior. They are progressing fairly well.

C. Emanuele and C. Woronecki are with us as maid and cook respectively.

Sincerely,

John Devine.

CLASS PRESENTATIONS

When you hear someone crying,
And hollering for her tops,
You can bet its Baby Jessie,
Yelling for these lollipops.

Mary Santanella......Maybelline
Mary, Mary, quite contrary,
How dark your lashes do grow,
If you will use this Maybelline,
They'll always be sure to show.

Lawrence Rostek...........Flashy Tie
This bright and gaudy tie you see,
Is for a quiet boy,
It will get at least we hope,
A glance from some feminine eye.

Will help him remember, this class

- Marion Fahey......Tap Dancing Shoes A well-known dancer, Will our Marion be, And with these tap dancing shoes, She will dance away our blues.
- Bernice Sheridan......Lasso
 Bernice of the boys is shy,
 And rarely gives them a sigh,
 A lasso might help her to round
 them up,
 In the by and by.
- Helen Davis.......Bottle of Perfume Helen is a bashful girl, And never talks to boys, Perhaps this bottle of perfume rare, Will lure them to our Helen, fair.
- Thomas Gray......Pad for Sport Notes
 A famous editor,
 Will Thomas Gray be,
 This pad for his sport notes,
 Will bring it you see.
- Stella Salva......Tatto Lipstick
 Stella Salva, a demure miss,
 We are sure never had a kiss,
 This Tatto Lipstick is the brand,
 To make the boys ask for her hand.
- Amelia Chmura.......Spare Tire
 When next you go to Washington,
 We hope you'll use this spare,
 And then in case you have a flat,
 At least you will be there.
- Eleanor Osborne..........Box of Powder
 Eleanor Osborne, tall and slender,
 Neat and prim as she can be,
 Will use this powder we are sure,
 To hide those blushes so demure.
- William Miller
 Book on How to Make Love
 William is so bashful,
 We know he can't make love,
 But yet he might surprise us,
 When he finds his turtle dove.

- Edward Kiernan......Shopping News
 No wonder Ed has all the style,
 The shopping news he peddles,
 This paper will keep him occupied,
 With others he'll not meddle.
- Christine Leander.........Typing Medal
 The fastest typist in our school,
 Is Miss Christine Leander,
 With our heartiest congratulations,
 This medal we're proud to hand her.
- Edythe McCallum......Roller Skates
 Edythe likes to chase the boys,
 And wears out many shoes,
 So we thought some roller skates,
 Would be just the things to use.
- Martha Malinoski.......Airplane
 From Suffield it is quite a walk,
 To dear old Enfield High,
 We hate to see you all tired out,
 And with this you can fly.
- Leona Michko......Ford Roadster
 When a blue and yellow roadster,
 Comes spinning down the street,
 Leona's heart goes pitter, patter,
 And she jumps right off her feet.
- Rita Manning............Florida Orange We know that it is nice to roam, And now we're glad that you are home.
- Enrico Guala......Football
 Enrico is a football star,
 To question it we'll not try,
 Let him take this football,
 For with it he'll get by.
- Onefrio Resta..........Running Pants
 When track records are made,
 When track records are broken,
 You can bet cha,
 They'll be broken by Resta.

Alan Donnelly......Jewel
Now, Al, we know you have one jewel,
But another one will do,
In case you lose one of them,
You'll have the other one, too.

Alexander Gracewski.......Peanuts
Peanuts for little folks,
Peanuts for small,
Here are some peanuts,
That will make you tall.

Hannah Malinsky....... Dress Pattern
Hannah here's a pattern,
And we think it's mighty fine,
It's just the sort of dress,
You can wear at any time.

John Labutis......Pepper
Johnny's so short,
Johnny's so small,
Walking makes him hazy,
That's why he's lazy.

John Albert Boat
A boat is just the thing
Before the school bell rings,
To help you cross the river,
If you haven't a fliver.

William Tippett.......Pigeon
Bill is an industrious boy,
His pigeons are his pride and joy,
Some day he'll go plenty places,
When his pigeons win the races.

Catherine Pomeroy.......Mirror
A mirror Catherine always has,
Within a handy reach,
She is never without it,
At home, at church, at beach.

Evelyn Prior......Love Letter
When the mailman comes around,
Evelyn jumps, leaps and bounds,
Because a letter from Colchester,
Is a great delight to her.

Muriel Smith..................Lunch Box Muriel cannot go all day, Without a little lunch, May this little box help you, When you feel the need to munch.

Bernice Pawelcik.......Fishing Hooks
Bernice likes all kinds of sports,
At fishing she is a dandy,
To her we give these hooks,
As they may come in handy.

Helen Pease......Box of Pep
To you we give this box of pep,
To help you hurry up a step.

Anna Pfeiffer.....Loud Speaker
We thought we would give a loud
speaker,
Because we very seldom hear her.

John Sweeney......Lux Soap
John has the fairest skin,
Of anyone we know,
May this Lux Toilet Soap,
Always keep it so.

Bernice Stiles.......Bar of Candy
Maybe if you had a stand,
Along the side of the road,
Your many bars of candy,
Would somewhat faster go.

Stanley Smith......Writing Paper
Paper is your one need,
So with these notes you may proceed,
To write to Miss Frew,

All the year through.

Charlotte Wirth...... Lemon
Lemons make your voice so clear,
You have helped us very much,
Now take this lemon, Charlotte dear,
May it aid to keep it such.

Betty Ann Winship......Adhesive Tape
Betty is so talkative,
We know its hard to quit,
We give this adhesive tape,
To help you out a bit.

Frank Kazmierski.....Sports Magazine
Frank had a brother,
Who played all sports well,
But at these some day,
Frank will excel.

Francis O'Donnell

Book on How to Act
Francis is a shy lad,
This is a well known fact,
But he isn't so bad,
Once he starts to act.

Henrietta Zuraw.....Library Card Henrietta is our libriarian, She knows all the books, If you're in doubt at any time, Ask her to take a look.

Stephen Gracewski and Esther Mohn
Dictionaries
Here's to the smartest lad and lass,
That we've ever had in our class,
They'll meet with success where ever they go,
And be a pair the world will know.

Joseph O'Brien.....Test Tube
When you feel sick,
And your head feels like a brick,
See Joe O'Brien,
And you'll be feeling fine.

Donald Morrell......Sport Story
Now Merriwell and Cagle were both very fine,
But there has never been a school that has had both combined.

Edward Pietrusza.......Baseball
When it comes to playing baseball,
And our team needs lots of runs,
The coach says Eddie, you go to bat,
And then he starts the fun.

Marica Crombie......Song Sheet
To Mina we give this book of songs,
And may her voice stay with her long.

James Blaney......Cornerstone
When Jim is old,
And to tired to walk,
He can use this stone,
To stand on and talk.

Gregory Ringwald..........Paint Brush
With paint and brush he does excel,
And enjoys doing a poster,
He always wins a prize or two,
Still is never a boaster.

William Malley......Bank Book
Bill, a tall and blushing chap,
Is liked by all he comes in contact,
He is the treasurer of the class,
And handles all the class' jack.

Mary Farrington.......Aspirin Tablet
Mary loves to go to parties,
And stay up late at night,
We think you'll like this aspirin,
In case you don't feel right.

Antoinette Muratore......Sage Tea Your hair is black, And blacker it will be, If you will just use, This package of Sage Tea.

Althea Martin......Jump Rope
When you are in the building,
You are always on the jump,
Be careful you don't fall someday,
And get a great big bump.

James Mirable and Mary Smyth
Token of Appreciation
To you two we owe a lot,
For you've helped us over many a rough spot,
And on to Washington we did go,
To enjoy the sights and see many a show.

Edmund Rossi......Soapbox
Edmund likes to rant,
Edmund likes to rave,
And with this soapbox,
Many nations he may save,

Mary Wojnar......Telegram
A telegram she sent, to the Polish
Ambassador,
And anxiously awaited a reply,
He answered, "Polish Embassy at 7.00,"
But Mary forgot to arrive.

Egg Walter Collins Walter is a busy man, And has much work to do, We think that eggs cause it all, So here's an egg for you.

Kenneth Lebeshevsky......Comb Forever dressing your hair, You surely stand alone, As an appropriate gift for you, We present you with this comb.

Clementine Baj.....Tube of Toothpaste Clem's teeth, shiny and bright, Are to the dentist a delight, Toothpaste we know will keep them so,

And a toothache will never be her foe.

Celia Bigos.....Yeastcake Celia is so very small, We'll do our best to make her tall, Yeast will do the job we know, And help our little Celia grow.

Marguerite Baronian.....Tray With this tray, We do convey, Our heartiest wishes, For luscious ice-cream dishes.

Helen Wojnar.....Bottle of Smiles Helen always has a smile, For everyone in the hall, A bottle of smiles will take their place, When she has given them all.

.....Peroxide Rita Hayden..... Rita is a lovely girl, And golden-haired is she, A bottle of peroxide, Its color will guarantee.

Ruth Malley Bottle of Iodine Where is my iodine, We always hear Ruth say, As she dashes on to school, And falls upon the way.

Sadie Maniscalco.....Cane When Sadie went to Washington, A cane was what she needed, In staring up at tall buildings, The steps she climbed unheeding.

Carmelina Gaetani.....Fuller Brush Carmelina's hair is very curly, And hard to brush each night, A Fuller Brush we all know, Will aid her in her plight.

Elizabeth Tower hates to give speeches, Especially in our English class, A record will do for the future, If her English she would pass.

Rita Sullivan.....Needle and Thread Here is some thread and a needle for you,

To aid in making your clothes, For dresses and coats to wear down-

You'll hear high praises all around.

.....Recipe Book Alice Pellaio In making fudge, Alice does excel, In this recipe book she will find, Good things to make, in her spare time.

Mildred La Grange......Shorthand Pad Mildred, who is trim and neat, In shorthand is hard to beat, And when her future boss comes near, You'll see this little pad appear.

Lena DiSciacca.....Typing Ribbon Lena is a typing artist, And in the contest was she, A typing ribbon is just the thing, That will make her typewriter ring.

Bernice Henry.....Noisemaker Bernice is so quiet, And seldom ever heard, A noisemaker will help her, To create a greater stir.

Alice Baranaski......Horn Silence is golden, When Alice is near, With this horn we hope, You will spread good cheer.

Charlotte Bidwell

Banner of Class Colors Charlotte attended many schools, Before she came to us, To make her feel at home, This banner we present from the class.

Harold Cunningham
Pipe and Tobacco A pipe for Harold, Tobacco too, When it's time to smoke, You'll have the two.

CLASS WILL

(By Joseph O'Brien)

Ladies and gentlemen, teachers and undergraduates:

It is my solemn duty tonight to make known to you the last will and testament of the lately deceased class of 1935. As counsel for said noble body it is my privilege to divide among you according to the dictates of my illustrious client, its mundane effects and properties.

Keeping in mind that all is dust and to dust returneth, we, standing on the threshold of the great divide give careful consideration to the terms of this document and do hereby declare null and void any previous wills or statements made at any previous time or place.

Item: To our Principal, Mr. Lee, we give and bequeath our sincere affection, our deepest reverence and our heartiest gratitude.

Item: To the faculty who have not striven in vain to dispel the darkness of ignorance with us, our sincere appreciation and praise.

Item: To undergraduates, the spirit and determination of the class of '35 that carried them to Washington and the hope that they will establish this pilgrimage as an annual event.

Item: To all those taking part in future dramatic productions the aura of fame that lingers from this year's superb acting and stage settings.

Item: The following bequests we make in good faith, hoping they will be received in a like spirit:

1st. To any individual with sufficient hardihood to wrest it from his dying grasp we leave Edmund Rossi's cap.

2nd. We bequeath Althea Martin's right to flirt with new boys in school to Jewell Fuge.

3rd. To Barney Buscemi, John Devine's custom of doing nothing and bragging about how well he did it.

4th. We will to Arthur Beeman, Robert McIntosh's fascinating way with girls.

5th. To Lorraine Begos, Hannah Malinsky's place before the looking glass in the girl's room.

6th. We give Enrico Casinghion's failure to remember the funny part of his jokes to Louis Scavotto.

7th. To Peggy Fitzgerald, Esther Frigon's clarion tone of voice that it may ring as of yore.

8th. We wish Dudley Bridge's technique of getting in and out of broils on Billy Boyle.

9th. To the Royal Northwest Mounted, Hazel Ghabour's unwavering determination to "get her man."

10th. Mary Smyth's drag with the faculty goes to Doris Sisitsky.

11th. To Destro, Jacob Persky wills his priceless Stradivarius violin.

12th. We leave to Mr. Gleason a pair of roller skates that he may better pursue truant freshmen about the building.

13th. To the school as a whole our regrets at depriving them of a flag-pole, Malley's graduating.

14th. We bequeath to Joe Pepek, Charlotte Wirth's high altitude soprano voice.

15th. To the police department, Shea's blush to use in case the stoplight system has an accident.

16th. We leave to Frank Bania, Charlie Rybeck's place at the mimeograph crank, in a drawer under which he will find a bottle of Absorbine Jr. for his arm.

17th. To Phyllis Bridge we leave Shirley Keeney's grass skirt for use in future pep assemblies.

18th. Christine Leander's ability to tap the keys at 75 per minute, we donate to Lois King.

19th. All the wads of gum that we have enjoyed we reluctantly pass on to Squires.

20th. To Evelyn Dixon, Betty Ann Winship's stately carriage.

21st. Moon Mullins leaves his harmonica to Mr. Merritt in case his pitch pipe should get asthmatic.

22nd. We leave to Justin Monson the historic safety pin Jimmy Blaney used when he lost the seat of his trousers on a nail.

In conclusion, we hereby appoint the aforementioned principal sole executor and trustee of this, our last will and testament. Given under our hand and seal, this fourteenth day of June, Anno Domini nineteen thirty-five.

FROSTY FERGUSON CONSTABLE LEO SLAMON

ADVICE TO UNDERGRADUATES

(By William Devine)

We, the fully polished, well-equipped, and experienced Seniors, having followed the unnecessary words of advice from our conceited predecessors, will pass on to you our sought after advice gained through hard-earned experience.

It is our one regret that we must leave to our friends, the very unintelligent, unsophisticated, and unreliable group of students, the honor of occupying our cherished seats in Room 26.

Juniors—As the senior class is so superior it feels that it is well qualified, being such a model class, to help you with the plans for your Washington trip.

Good friends, we know very well that in your stage of adolescence you are very apt to try to eat soup with a fork and peas with a knife. Don't lose hope, you'll learn when your grandsons are growing beards.

Why not plan a huge prize-fight? Having so much local talent, especially in the high school, you might stage a bout between some of the pupils. By using school talent you have no expense and the fighters will probably have no classes for a week!

Girls! Interest the women folk of the town in contract bridge—you can then care for their little Algernons. Just carry a rope and tie them in the yard—then do as you please!

Boys! Keep the chain letters going—from their returns you should be able to take a "Round the World Trip."

Why not have your graduation at the beginning of Senior year? It will make matters much easier. Then when you have graduated, you won't have to do any studying at all.

And now future graduates—about your graduation pictures. Of course you have seen and admired ours. We all looked charming, which showed our natural manner. We advise you to frown when you have yours taken. Then other people, on seeing these pictures, will admire them and state that they look just like you. Above all things look disgusted and show your true nature.

Sophomores—Why go just to Washington? You have plenty of time. Plan a trip to sunny California by way of the Panama Canal!

Scientists say that colored rooms are much better on the eyes than ordinary rooms. Paint your rooms blue, green, red, etc., during the summer. It will be quite a thrill to say, "My next class is in the Blue Room, Cheerio!" Also by painting you can surely increase your stature a few inches.

Freshmen—You've enjoyed coming to school afternoons this year. Why not continue next? However, if classes keep increasing, let's make a third session—one from 5 P. M. till 9 P. M. But could you little mites stay awake that long? You've certainly retarded the progress of the school this year. If you intend to do the same next year, why not stay away altogether.

You also are planning an extended trip. The least you can do is take a trip to Europe. Have for your slogan, "A penny a day for Paris."

Our friends, the insignificant, egotistical Freshmen, Sophomores, and Juniors are so silly they cannot possibly study. No wonder there are so few smart ones among you. Follow the footsteps of the Seniors and be brilliant.

Underclassmen—Why not imitate the Prince of Wales and take up knitting. You're good imitators. Organize some classes and soon you will be wearing your own knitted suits. But you'll have to be very careful and not catch them on the chairs in the Auditorium. You know that a little nail can cause a drastic calamity. If you should catch a loose thread—oh! my!

Most slightly intelligent underclassmen, and there are very few, know that Mr. Langford has started an aquarium. Since he is so anxious to gather specimens it is your duty to aid him. Why not drain the Connecticut River and gather the sea monsters that are found there? If enough specimens are collected you should soon have an aquarium on par with the one in New York. Crowds will then flock here and instead of a classroom you would have a room strictly for amusement.

Our school needs a broadcasting studio! The talent presented would closely resemble Raymond Knight's "Cuckoo Hour."

This daylight saving idea is fine! Begin school at eight. Have classes for an hour. Then turn the clocks ahead to 12.30 and go home. Very simple.

Now that we are about to leave we suggest a new plan for Mr. Lee. One of his cherished privileges is to send letters home when a pupil is low in his studies. This plan is too much of a burden for him and also for the school board as it costs money for postage. Instead of this why not have your parents come to school one night a week and have a conference with our principal? We sincerely approve of this plan and urge its adoption.

Although all I have said is quite true, I am sure you can remedy the situation by burning plenty of midnight oil and getting to bed early. Follow our advice and become worthy Seniors.

Now for a few serious words! We sincerely do thank you underclassmen for your fine cooperation. You have made our four years very enjoyable. Even though we are anxious to get out into the "wide, wide world" we dislike the thoughts of leaving so many cherished friends behind. Continue to aid each other in all undertakings. Support all school activities and above all be good sports, so on graduating you will feel you have done your best.

These are the farewell words of the Senior Class.

RESPONSE TO THE SENIORS

(By Carl Rostek)

Members of the Faculty, Friends, and Bragging Seniors, Supercritical, Would-be Models!

This advice to the undergraduates has been a challenge which we cannot disregard. In order not to appear lethargic, or totally unresponsive, we the Junior, the Sophomore and the Freshman Classes feel that we must make a suitable explanation of the real state of affairs.

You mention your regret at leaving us; we wish to state that this causes us real rejoicing. Your many childish and glaring faults have far too long annoyed us! To cite one example only, your actions on the Washington Trip have merely shown us what not to do! We were informed about your eating soup with a fork and peas with a knife! To think that this has been done, at one time or another, by your so-called "fully-polished, well-equipped, experienced Seniors"! Of course this is about what we might expect! And we all know to what lowly objects polish is applied!

It has been mentioned that we might use our latent talent in prize fighting to add to our income! May I mention that all these contentions were started by Seniors, because they "just couldn't take it!" Sorry, beloved Seniors, but that kind of talent will shortly disappear, since you are graduating!

Your representative advised the girls to interest the women of Enfield in Contract Bridge, so that more "little Algernons" might be cared for to add to the girls' pocket money. Is this because of the interest the Senior girls had in said "little Algernons", or are these charges so very young?

As to the beauty of the Senior photographs, of course not much could have been expected from such inferior subjects. We only hope you may all have the privilege of seeing our Senior pictures next year. That will be something to brag about!

The Sophomores might perhaps take your advice in regard to a trip to California by way of the Panama Canal, if they were not positive that they would be followed by some of the Seniors, who are so well-educated in traveling by their Washington Trip experience.

The idea of having school rooms painted different colors, is quite silly, especially since we Juniors expect to see the Blue Room in the White House, that is if the present Seniors left it there! The different colors wouldn't have prevented eyestrain in the Seniors, for we have never seen them overtax their eyesight with studying. The boys would have been more likely to incur poor eyes and lame necks watching the feminine parade down Enfield Street.

the girls would have been more likely to get eye strain from eagerly scanning the horizon for a strange, good-looking young man.

We approve your suggestion of a third session of school from 5-9 P. M. Just the thing for the large number of Post Graduates of the Class of 1935! Then they can profit by the advice of their more brilliant and competent friends, the under-graduates!

It has been mentioned that the under classes should take a trip to Europe! A good idea—what brilliance you unassuming Seniors have! It would be worthwhile just to get away from your immediate neighborhood and escape your irrepressible egotism.

How you must have envied us undergraduates last winter when you saw us attending dances, while you had to stay at home, saving your money for your Washington Trip, and dancing with your shadow."

You advise us to have graduation exercises in September, 1935! What a disgrace for us to be linked by the same numerals as the mentally-deficient Senior Class!

If the Seniors, as your bombastic protagonist has intimated, have put nails in the assembly seats, we, the undergraduates, instead of wearing Knitted Suits, shall come to assembly clad in coat of mail.

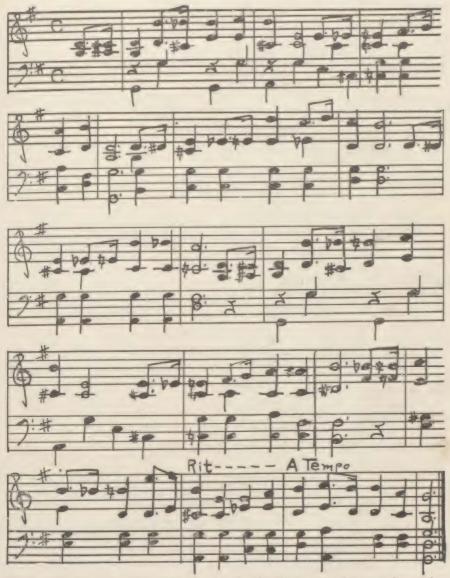

The undergraduates would be very much pleased to drain the river, for the benefit of Mr. Langford's aquarium, but the idea of getting fish, when there are no fish in the river, would be quite fantistic, unless some of those Senior Moonlight strollers should fall off the Bridge. If we did decide to finance an aquarium, we could surely surpass the feebly attempts of the Seniors.

Much has been said in humorous vein, in an attempt to lighten the sorrows of parting. Now we would say a few serious words. Overlooking some slight indiscretions, we admit that the Senior Class has been most outstanding in many respects. We, the undergraduates, wish to express, our thanks for the help and inspiration that you, honorable Seniors, have afforded us. We hope sincerely that in the future you will achieve the real success for which you have been working. You have blazed the way for a Washington trip. For establishing this Enfield High School custom, the undergraduates will continually thank you. As a class you have shown initiative and originality far above average. The future years can never take from us, the happiness which our association with you has produced.

Music by Donald Comrie

Come and sing to the school we cherish

Come and sing for Old Enfield High Her name we will always remember From days that are long gone by; Let this song that we sing be carried On our way toward the goal we strive With effort and honor and service From the class of thirty-five. As the time comes for us to leave thee We are sorry that we must part But we always will carry a feeling Of honor within our hearts; So farewell dear Old Alma Mater Your banner we'll all hold high When we go from your doors of learn-

As the Class of thirty-five.

Rose Schianca......Sheet of Music In a popular orchestra, Our Rose does play, With a sheet of music, Sweet melody she will convey.

Margaret Charette

Water from Fountain of Youth
This water from the fountain of youth we give,
To keep you beautiful as long as you live.

Anne Cygan Rouge
Anna's lips are always rosy,
Her cheeks are always pale,
If she tries a little rouge,
I'm sure it will not fail.

Constance Emanuele............Ear Rings
Connie never is without,
Her ear rings white as snow,
Perhaps a pair of red ones,
Would attract the boys, you know.

Nicholas Dell Aquila

Hammer and Saw Making scenery is not new, To this boy called "Nick," For with a hammer or with a saw, He's helped school plays click. Leo Jedziniak Shoes
Leo as a salesman is not bad,
So we give him these shoes,
To sell for his dad.

Donald Comrie......Small Piano
Music is a specialty,
To Don, our president,
All listen quite attentively,
When he is music bent.

Ellsworth Howard......Freckle Cream Red hair and freckles, A sign of mischief sure enough, But we all know that "Red," Is made of fine and likeable stuff.

Henry Norian......Baton
As leader of the German Band,
We want the job done fine,
So you must have a small baton,
To keep the boys in time.

Eva Tamulis......Pamphlet of Pictures
Came the tree,
Came the leave,
Came the dawn,
Came the Eve.

Enrico Casinghino.......Joke Book
A witty person they say you are,
And you make lots of fun,
So to you we give a joke book,
In case you run out of pun.

Monica And Maurice McCann.....Tags You are the only pair of twins, In this large and glorious class, So we must give both a tag, To tell the lad from the lass.

William Devine Stamp
Stamps are his greatest hobby,
He knows them up and down,
We feel that it is in order,
To give him this one now.

NORTHEASTERN UNIVERSITY

Day Division

SCHOOL OF ARTS AND SCIENCES
Offers a broad program of college subjects serving as a foundation for the understanding of modern culture, social relations, and technical achievement, and including selected occupational courses. The purpose of this program is to give the student a liberal and cultural education and a vocational competence which fits him to enter some specific type of useful employment. The vocational options are in such fields as: Accounting, Advertising, Industrial Chemistry, Teaching, Factory Administration, Salesmanship, Surveying and Topography, Physical Education, Industrial Relations, Business Practice, Drafting and Technical Drawing.

SCHOOL OF BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION

Offers a college program with broad and thorough training in the principles of business with specialization in ACCOUNTING, BANKING AND FINANCE, or BUSINESS MANAGEMENT. Instruction is through modern methods including lectures, solution of business problems, class discussions, professional talks by business executives, and motion pictures of manufacturing processes.

SCHOOL OF ENGINEERING

Provides complete collège programs in Engineering with professional courses in the fields of CIVIL, MECHANICAL, ELECTRICAL, CHEMICAL, and INDUSTRIAL ENGINEERING. General engineering courses are pursued during the Freshman year; thus the student need not make a final decision as to the branch of Engineering in which he wishes to specialize until the beginning of the Sophomore

Co-operative Plan

The Co-operative Plan, which is available to the students in all courses, provides for a combination of practical industrial experience with classroom instruction. Under this plan the student is able to earn a portion of his school expenses as well as to form business contacts which prove valuable in later years.

Degrees Awarded

The Bachelor of Science Degree is conferred upon all students who satisfactorily complete an approved course of study.
